OHIO'S LEGISLATURE.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE FIFTY-SIXTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Gavel Falls After Complimentary Speeches and Votes of Thanks—Resumption of the Work Accomplished in Framing Legal Enactments.

COLUMBUS, May 5.—The closing hour of the general assembly was spent in mutual admiration speeches, in which republicans and democrats participated. Speeches were made by Messrs. Brunner, Brown, Myers, Lott, Bayard, and Speaker Marsh.

The house adopted a vote of thanks to Speaker Marsh, Speaker pro tem, Brunner, and all officers and clerks of the house, and at 11:30 the speaker's gavel fell and the legislature was declared adjourned sine die.

During the session just closed there were some wholesome and beneficial laws passed, and probably less than the usual number of purely vicious ones. Embracing the bills that came from the first session there were in round numbers 700 bills considered in the house and 200 in the senate, and about 300 of them enacted into laws, each house passing nearly a grotesque number of the bills up for consideration.

Of those taking the form of law, fifty-sixty per cent. are purely local in their character and of no sort of interest except to the people to whom they apply.

Of the bills not local in their character nearly all were revisory or supplementary to the revised statutes. Some of the changes are purely clerical or verbal, others clearly of a remedial character, and a few of the law as it stood at the opening of the session.

Altogether there was not more than a score of laws passed which will prove of general importance to the people of the whole state, and none of them are very radical. The act clearly defining the powers and jurisdiction of the circuit court was deemed necessary and meets with general approval.

The bill suppressing bucket shops is one of the most important laws passed. It is a bill which will be of great benefit to the people of the whole state, and it is one of the most important laws passed.

Other bills that the O'Neill bill, which passed the house under a suspension of the rules and became a law on Saturday, breaking the power of the Underwriter's association to arbitrarily raise the rate of insurance, will rank among the most important acts of the legislature.

Money's bill, pulling the teeth of the "in-shut-out" character, is a bill of great benefit to the people of the whole state, and it is one of the most important laws passed.

The bill enlarging the powers and giving the inspectors of shops a full corps of assistants meets with warm approval among the labor element. Labor advocates say that the mine inspection, the shop inspection, the anti-sweat payment, the Ryan labor tribunal and the other bills passed by the legislature are a long step in the direction of a much needed reform. The Levering bill, providing for all executions to take place in the penitentiary, creates a wide diversity of opinion.

The only mistake in regard to the act providing for the removal of the state capital from Cincinnati, in the opinion of the ablest members of the legislature and others, was that it was not made general, or at least made to apply to all cities of 10,000 population and over.

The most radical act passed was that to make the third degree a felony, and to make the punishment of life for life, regardless of the character of his offense. No other legislative body ever passed such a law.

PLYMOUTH'S EPIDEMIC

Regular Typhoid Fever and Caused by As Impure Water Supply.

WILKESBARR, Pa., May 5.—The epidemic in Plymouth still holds its own. A correspondent connected with a number of physicians, and they report several fresh cases, but do not think that there are so virulent a nature as formerly. They fear, however, that during the summer there will be many deaths. Many of the wealthier residents have removed their families from the town, and the removal has come to the town, as has followed after their departure.

Dr. Davis, a leading physician of this city, who is attending a number of patients in Plymouth, pronounces the disease regular typhoid fever. He believes the cause of the epidemic can be found in the water supply, which has been contaminated by fecal matter or drains. The municipal authorities are about to make a searching examination along the whole course of the water supply in the hope of finding some such cause.

Dr. Smith, one of the leading physicians of the place, in his description of the disease, says that the disease is on the increase and was spreading in a most alarming manner among the neighboring houses. He said: "I have among them twenty-three cases of typhoid fever, nearly all on the outskirts of the town. I consider that we have not yet seen the worst of this epidemic."

and I should not be surprised if ten or twelve died every day."

"What is the disease?"

"It begins with that kind of fever which has been variously designated as malarial, marsh or lake fever, but gradually the typhoid symptoms develop and in every case it ends in regular typhoid fever."

"Has the local cause been discovered?"

"I think it has. The disease is due mainly to the malarious exhalations from stagnant water and decaying animal and vegetable matter, but I am also inclined to think that it is in part due to the drinking water. The water in many cases is water in pure, but I believe that if the reservoirs were examined they would be found full of decaying vegetation. The most alarming feature about the epidemic at present, however, is its steady spread among surrounding towns. There are over two hundred cases reported at Nanticoke, Hike, and about fifty at Lockville, and a few in nearly every one of the small villages round about. Kingston, just across the river from this city, has several cases of a similar nature."

LOOKS VERY LIKE PEACE.

Russia and England Agree to Negotiate, London and Foreign News.

LONDON, May 5.—The news of Lord E. Russell, secretary for foreign affairs, said that England and Russia had reached agreement whereby negotiations concerning the Afghan frontier dispute will be renewed. Earl Granville further stated that the coming negotiations will be carried on in London, and that the preliminary details have been arranged in view of an early meeting of the commission.

The agreement had seen an order to Dover to cease chartering ships of small port for transportation service. This is believed to be a step toward the stoppage of all war preparations.

The Celestials Know the Bear's Tactics. LONDON, May 5.—A dispatch from Shanghai says that the dispute between the Chinese and Russian governments over the Manchu frontier has been settled on terms of equality.

The Chinese commissioners appointed to meet the Russian commissioners for the purpose of settling disputes arising out of the frontier question, and finally fixing on a dividing line between Russia and the Chinese possessions in Asia, has been appointed to meet the Russian commissioners for the purpose of settling disputes arising out of the frontier question, and finally fixing on a dividing line between Russia and the Chinese possessions in Asia.

The Chinese government will insist on its claims with regard to the frontier line, and is fully determined to enforce them.

STRIKERS SHOT DOWN.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Sheriff Hanchett, of this city, has received word from the state that a collision occurred between the troops and striking quarrymen at that town, and that the strikers were killed. Two companies of the state troops went to Lemont to guard the quarry there and to enable the non-union men to resume work.

The strikers were shot down, and the non-union men were allowed to resume work. The strikers were shot down, and the non-union men were allowed to resume work.

Three companies of State troops from Joliet left Lemont, and dismounted at the Electric street car station, and went to Lemont. They were then advised that the strikers in large numbers had made an assault upon men loading a canal boat with coal, one mile north of Lemont, and were told that a collision between the troops and strikers occurred there a little before noon.

JOLIET, Ill., May 5.—There are no demonstrations of any kind made by the strikers, and quiet reigns supreme about the quarry and in the city. Sheriff Reitz released all but four of the prisoners captured Friday morning, and they were conducted to the city limits, and told to leave the county at once.

COLUMBIA, Ill., May 5.—The striking coal miners, who nearly all left here, are expected back six hundred strong, from Belleville. Although their leaders say they will use no violence, a strong force of deputy sheriffs and deputy city marshals has been sworn to protect the men going to work.

The mayor issued a proclamation warning strikers not to interfere with men on property. It is thought that trouble is all over.

LINDSAY, Ont., May 3.—James Fanning, living in the township of Ope, near Janesville, separated from his wife some time ago and she returned to her father Mr. H. Pogue, a farmer of the same town. Fanning has tried a number of times since to induce her to return and live with him, which she refused to do. Fanning is now living in a small house created between Fanning and Pogue.

On Sunday Fanning being the more for liquor visited Pogue's house and a quarrel ensued, during which Pogue shot Fanning and fired, he charged entering Fanning's leg, tearing the flesh in a fearful manner. Fanning was taken to the hospital, but he is still unable to stand. Pogue admits the shooting and is locked up.

DEATH'S CRUEL HAND

SNATCHES LOVED ONES FROM LIFE IN AWFUL AGONY.

And Crowned the Efforts of Noble Firemen. Father and Mother Meet the Grim Destroyer in Vale of Tears.

Their Boy—Fire's Ravages.

WATERLOO, N. Y., May 5.—A fire which was thought to have been extinguished in the afternoon broke out after midnight on Sunday in James Logan's house. Mr. Logan and his wife, in attempting to rescue a son aged nine years from an upper story in which he was sleeping, were overcome by the heat and smoke, and with the son, perished in the flames. Mr. Logan's body was found burned to a crisp, and Mr. Logan was found upon his back with his chest clasped in his arms, both dead. Another child, Lettie, aged fourteen years, was rescued, but was so severely burned that the physician says she cannot recover. Two other children were rescued uninjured. Mr. Logan was chairman of the democratic county committee, and was much respected.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Just before midnight on Sunday fire was kindled in the third story of No. 161 South Water street and had secured good headway before an engine appeared. A second alarm brought a half dozen engines, and soon a mass of steam were directed to the fourth story in the hope of drowning out the flames. The heavy weight of the steam, however, had the effect of water from the pipes, overtaxed its strength and it gave way directly over the heads of some of the men who found themselves engulfed in a mass of debris. When all the injured men had been extricated it was suddenly discovered that two of them were missing. Their names were not known, but the weight had suddenly borne them down and had crushed their lives out. Both men were knocked senseless and then were played by the dense smoke. The loss on the buildings will reach $25,000; insurance $20,000.

A TOWN THREATENED WITH FIRE.

MUNCIE, Ind., May 5.—There is a bitter fight between the prohibitionists and the bootleggers at Red Key, Ind. For several months past there has been threats on both sides and many anonymous letters have been received by different parties to protect themselves.

Among the recipients was the late newspaper and an insurance company in Muncie. The latter is the case in the town.

A few days ago attempts were made to blow up the safe of the insurance company, and the safe was blown up. The safe was blown up, and the safe was blown up.

Valuable Machinery Destroyed. SCRANTON, Pa., May 5.—A fire broke out in the engine room of the railroad department of the Lackawanna iron and coal company's steel mill. The fire destroyed valuable machinery to the amount of $25,000, partly insured.

BRIDGE BURNED.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 5.—The 300-foot high bridge on the C. & H. and D. railroad at Oxford burned and all trains have to be stopped. It is supposed that it was fired by a tramp.

President Cleveland Visits the Great Battle Ground. WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Cleveland and party took a special train for the battle ground of Gettysburg, accompanied by ex-Gov. Curran, Gen. Sherman, Gen. Rosecrans, of California, and Accion, of New York; Second Vice President Hunt, of the Society of Civil War Veterans, and J. H. Hine, historian of the first corps.

At Hanover, York county, Pa., the special train conveying President Cleveland and party to Gettysburg had just left the station when the engine broke down and the train had to wait until another engine could be secured.

A special from Gettysburg says that when the president arrived a great crowd was present, and the national salute was fired. Gov. Pattison and Congressmen who were met the party and as the president stepped off the train the crowd cheered and the president waved to the throng.

The president arrived at the battle ground, and the governor made an address of welcome to which Mayor McVicker responded. The party drove to the battlefield.

ORPHANS' LIVES IMPERILED.

By an Inconvenient Attempt to Burn the Covington Children's Home. CINCINNATI, May 5.—Mrs. Shirk, the mother of the children in the Covington Children's Home, was awakened at an early hour by a cry from the children's dormitory. Rushing in she found one of her charges, George Leudecke, aged ten, rushing frantically up and down the smoke filled dormitory, awakening the other children.

The fire broke out in the kitchen, and the children were rescued. The fire broke out in the kitchen, and the children were rescued.

On the other end of the kitchen, under the window, was the stove, and it was found that the fire had been kindled under the stove. Seeking further, the investigator found where the door leading from the hall to the kitchen, and by the side of the elevator, had been set on fire from the outside. This was enough to convince the firemen that the fire had been set on fire from the outside.

The best in the kitchen was so intense that it melted apart the tinware in the pantry adjoining. In the room above the kitchen it was so hot that it could not be entered for some time. The flames soon spread, and the fire had been burning for some time before their arrival.

The places selected for the fire by the incendiary were advantageous to its spread. At the range was the wood shed shelving for the cooking utensils; at the table was the roof-work of the window; and at the door was the elevator, which would, it had been open, acted as a flue for the flames.

The building was shut up about two years ago by Mr. Amos Shink, and presented to the city by that gentleman to be used as a children's home.

It was built as nearly fire proof as possible. It is all brick, there being brick between each floor, the stairway being all slate and iron, this fact alone, saving a horrible loss.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA

Action of the Railroad Companies on the Illinois Quarantine.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—In pursuance of an idea which has been developing in the rail road world for some time, the Missouri Pacific, Wabash and Frisco lines have employed Dr. Farrell, the veterinary surgeon as inspector at this point. He will examine all cattle received, and on his certificate of their healthy condition they will be shipped out to their destination. The railroad companies are thoroughly disgusted with the proclamation of Gov. Oglesby which prevents their carrying Missouri cattle into Illinois.

"I do not believe," said Mr. Olds, general traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific, "that Gov. Oglesby can interfere with interstate commerce. He may attempt to do so, but it is stopping in transit actually comes within the order issued by the federal authorities. It is not affected by the quarantine. If the National stock yards people here consult their attorney in regard to it they would very soon find out what their rights are. It is my opinion that the law looks much like plain common sense that I am more or less convinced that I am right. The secret for shipping Missouri cattle opened two weeks ago and here we are still in the best part of that season. We are going to make an effort to get cattle through, and in order to do so we intend to employ an inspector, who will remain in St. Louis or go out to different points when called."

THE SUICIDAL EPIDEMIC.

The deceased was about forty, a widower lived in his own home, and was a well known bookkeeper of this city, as he lay in his bed, was stricken by a bullet through his heart and almost instantly expired.

The death of a sister and niece for whom he had a tender attachment some years ago was noticed to have a permanent effect upon Mr. Fuller's mind. He became much graver than before. The death of his wife, who was a well known bookkeeper of this city, as he lay in his bed, was stricken by a bullet through his heart and almost instantly expired.

GHOSTLY VIGILS.

A Grave Watchman Sickness and Dies Through Fear.

CINCINNATI, May 5.—The published statement is made here that a watchman has been stationed at the grave of Cyrus H. McCormick every night since the death of the inventor, and that he has been so terrified by the apparitions that he has been unable to perform his duty.

Since the death of Allen, John O'Rourke has gone his silent rounds eight or nine times a night. During the last watch he was so terrified by the apparitions that he has been unable to perform his duty.

McCormick reaper works, the watch was doubled and extra precautions were taken to prevent the desecration of the grave. No violence was offered the watchman, however, and the speedy erection of the mausoleum now contemplated will relieve the watchman of his duty.

A DESPATCH from Washington to the Louisville Evening Times announces that the President has appointed Capt. James Blackburn Collector of Internal Revenue for this district. The selection of Capt. Blackburn for this important position is as good a one as could have been made and will be received with satisfaction by the Democracy in this part of the district. An efficient administration of revenue affairs on strictly business principles may be expected.

THE last issue of Bradstreet's, which appeared on Saturday last, reports a moderate improvement in the retail business of the East in consequence of the warmer weather. There is also a better feeling in trade circles consequent upon the supposed advantage this country will derive from a European war. In industrial lines there is no better outlook. The small strikes in leading industries are very large in the aggregate. Labor is more completely organized and is demanding an increase of wages. What peace there is, is only temporary. The decreased acreage and the damage to Western crops indicate a shorter yield than last year.

THE Boston Globe says: "President Cleveland was elected by nearly five millions of Democrats, and we firmly believe that he understands and appreciates that fact. They expect him to give the country a clean and honest administration, and he evidently means to do just that, nothing more, nothing less. The Democratic party desired him to move slowly in the matter of changes, as they have had no wish for a revolution or violent shocks which would disturb and alarm the business men of the country. Consequently the party has been patient and willing to allow time for a thorough examination of details and a mastery of all the questions affecting the administration."

THE question of the ownership of a medical prescription is one which has often occasioned controversy. When a man consults a physician and obtains from him a prescription for the compounding of medicine by a druggist, having paid for the recipe he naturally supposes the paper to be his individual property. It not uncommonly happens, however, that the druggist, having put up and delivered the medicine, insists upon retaining the prescription, sometimes refusing, if not of an obliging temper, even to give the customer a copy of it. It may be interesting to know that the question of such ownership has been received judicial decision. The Supreme Courts of New York and Massachusetts have adjudicated upon it substantially as follows: That the physician, in prescribing, gives the patient a written order for drugs, and their delivery terminates the operation. The druggist may, on his own responsibility, renew the drugs, for he is a merchant, and has a right to sell drugs in any shape. He is not bound to give a copy of the prescription, nor even to keep it, though he usually retains it as a protection in case of error on the part of doctors or patients.

THE CINCINNATI DOG SHOW.

Grand Preparations for the Big Opening Day.

CINCINNATI, May 5.—Preparations are being made for the big dog show of the Cincinnati Sportsman's club. This show will be by all odds the finest and most complete ever given in America. Over 500 entries have been made, and among them is included every kennel of note on this side of the Atlantic. There will also be representatives from some of the most celebrated kennels in England and Ireland. This show, coming at its time, is the best of the great New York exhibition, which has just closed at Madison Square garden, is therefore right in the line of the exhibition circuit and every dog note entered in the New York show will be shipped direct to Cincinnati, as well as other fine canines from all parts of the south and west.

The commodious Music hall is a most excellent place for such an exhibition, and permits of the high steps in the canal which have shown to the best advantage. The show last spring in Melodone Hall was a good one, but the present exhibition will eclipse it in every particular.

The center floor space is raised in and set apart for the ring in which the famous animals are to be exhibited and their fine points shown. A new enclosure is to be formed with wire netting affording an unobstructed view of the place. Outside this, and with an alley between, is a double row of kennels, numbering nearly a hundred and seventy separate compartments, for smaller animals. About the walls of the hall is a broad platform the height of which will be changed by exhibition.

Steve Elkins Speaks.
New York, May 5.—Stephen B. Elkins, manager of Mr. Blaine's campaign, is quoted as saying: I am compelled to say that I think personally that the Cleveland policy is better than would have been that of the man I spent dollars and time to elect. Still, I take a democrat. Blaine's claim is better to-day for election in 1888 than they were the day after the convention at Chicago for success in 1884.

which a declaration of gravances and protest which had been formulated at a general conference of the Mormon church April 5, was read. The declaration is addressed to the president and the people of the United States. It begins by saying that as the rights as American citizens of the vast majority of the people of Utah and their correligionists in the neighboring states and territories are trampled upon, they believe it their imperative duty to speak against the gigantic evil which threatens not only their liberties, but the liberties of every freeman.
It then says:

"As to our religious faith, it is based upon evidence which to our minds is conclusive convictions not to be destroyed by legislative enactments or judicial decisions. Force may enslave the body, but it cannot convince the mind. To yield at the demand of the legislator or to judge the rights of conscience would prove us recant to every duty we owe to God and man. Among the principles of our religion is that of immediate revelation from God. One of its tenets as revealed is celestial or plural marriage, for which celestially we are stigmatized and hated. This a vital part of our religion, the decisions of courts to the contrary notwithstanding."

The declaration declares that the practice of polygamy as understood among the occidental nations is a system of sensuality; but the latter day saints believe that the marriage is one which, when properly solemnized exists in eternity. Every faithful woman man in the church believes that in order to insure her exaltation in the presence of God she should be married or sealed to as appropriate, faithful man. It then says:

"Acting upon this belief, these alliances are formed, while on the earth, upon the principle that the man is not without the woman nor the woman without the man in the Lord. They firmly believe that God has revealed this to them as a command. But while patriarchal marriage, as it is termed, is a part of their faith and practice, they have no idea that it should become universal.
The equality of the sexes, if no other reason would prevent this. It is a mistaken idea of our system of marriage promoting sensuality, experience has proved that it checks it and, instead of being destructive to the family relations, it is preservative of it."

Complaint is made that the commissioners appointed under the Edmunds law have grossly abused the authority conferred upon them, and have usurped extraordinary, if not illegal and arbitrary powers. On this point it says:

"The commissioners officiously formulated an unauthorized and illegal expedi-tory test oath, covering the whole life of the individual, and required each elector in the territory to take it before he could vote, and by their order the names of all persons who failed to take this oath were stricken from the registry list. They so constructed the test oath that it could not be taken by any person who had ever lived in polygamy, or who cohabited with more than one woman in the marriage relation, but it could be, and was, taken by persons who cohabited with more than one woman not in the marriage relation, thus disfranchising only Mormons, and permitting non-Mormon violators of the law to register and vote."

It is further asserted that they have grossly abused their authority in the appointment of registration officers, by selecting for an-positions, whenever possible, only such persons as belong to the anti-Mormon faction.
The declaration then says:

"The Edmunds law, which not only provides for the punishment of polygamy, but also cohabitation with more than one woman, whether in the marriage relation or outside of it, is made to operate upon one class of people only—the Mormons—and yet, of the non-Mormon class who transgress the law, the name is legion. The paragon of mistresses and harlots, secure from prosecution, walks the streets in the open day. No United States official puts a "spotter" on his trail, or makes an effort to drag his deeds of shame and guilt before a judge and jury for investigation and punishment. But note the contrast. In Utah, Idaho, and Arizona a concerted assault is made upon the Mormon people. Spotters and spies dog their footsteps. Detectors thrust themselves into bed-chambers and watch at windows. Children are questioned upon the streets as to the marital relations of their parents. Families are dragged before commissioners and grand juries, and on pain of punishment for contempt are compelled to testify against their fathers and husbands. Modest women are made to answer shamefully indecent questions. Attempts are made to bribe men to work up cases against their neighbors. Notoriously disreputable characters are employed to spy into men's family relations."

The document concludes with a protest against such treatment, and a request for the appointment by the president of a commission "to fairly and thoroughly investigate the Utah situation."

Striking Against a Reduction.
CLEVELAND, O., May 5.—Three hundred and sixty coal miners in the Cuyahoga valley district have struck, and a general strike is threatened throughout the Cuyahoga and Tuscarawas valley districts. The men had been receiving seventy-five cents per ton, and the cut was to sixty cents. The owners claim that the miners will have to take sixty cents a ton or the mines will be closed.

The Run of Shal.
WASHINGTON, May 5.—The fish commissioners much encouraged over a letter just received from Representative H. A. Herbert of Alabama. He writes: "Quite a number of shad have been caught in the Alabama river this season, and the fish are in the introduction of these fish in those waters will be highly successful, and that, too, at an early day, if it were planted." The favorable reports come from the Ohio river, where now has an annual and increasing run of shad each spring.
